

Naniwa-yasai, the traditional vegetables of Osaka City Naniwa

Since February 2005, there have been 9 individual locally cultivated crops that received “Naniwa-yasai, Osaka Traditional Vegetables” designation, certifying their significance in supporting Osaka’s agriculture and cuisine for over a century.

The designation permits use of the designation mark during sales of these crops and food products that include them as ingredients; allowing for promotion of the products as

“Naniwa-yasai, Osaka Traditional Vegetables.”
