Easy to Identify Disaster Prevention Signal

When information on evacuation sites, weather advisories, earthquakes, and other emergencies are announced, notifications and color variations will appear on the home screen. The home screen will change color depending on the level of danger.

Notify Impending Dangers by Push Notification

The City of Osaka's disaster prevention information will be notified to users by push notification. To receive notifications, users can configure their own settings.

Let's Prepare Stockpiled Supplies

Check 1-week worth of stockpiled supplies that matches family structure. Share list of stockpiled supplies, create checklist for items to buy, and check details of stockpiled supplies.

Daily Use of Weather Radar

Information on rainfall amounts and typhoons from the Japan Meteorological Agency will be updated in real time. For estimated distribution of precipitation within the period from 60 minutes prior to 15 hours prior, this information can be continuously displayed and viewed.

Disaster Prevention Map

In projection of water hazards like torrential rain, storm surges, and tsunamis, the flood disaster prevention maps will indicate flood risk zones. Also, information on the status of establishing evacuation sites and routes to evacuation sites can be checked. In addition, maps to check for temporary emergency shelters have been included.

User-friendly Multilingual Support

To have many people utilize this app, the languages of Japanese, simple Japanese, English, Chinese (Simplified / Traditional), and Korean are offered. Users who are not proficient in Japanese can feel more at ease.
